DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Liu et al. (PAP US 2002/0077808 A1), hereinafter simply Liu.

2. In regard to claims 1, 10, 19, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, see abstract, comprising: storing a set of European alphabet letters in a memory (data file); see col.2 paragraph 51; inputting an alphabet letter to be converted to a European alphabet letter; see col.1 paragraph 6; determining whether a mode conversion key has been activated; see col.3 paragraph 57; displaying a plurality of European alphabet letters corresponding to the inputted alphabet letter on a pop-up window when it is determined that the mode conversion key has been activated, wherein the European alphabet letters are read from the memory; see col.2 paragraph 53; and selecting a desired one of the displayed European alphabet letters. See col.3 paragraph 54, 56.

Art Unit: 2676

3. In regard to claims 2, 11, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, further comprising checking whether the editing mode has been selected. See col.2 paragraph 53.

4. In regard to claim 3, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, further comprising storing a set of European alphabet letter in a memory (data file); see col.2 paragraph 51.

5. In regard to claims 4, 20, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, further comprising wherein the European alphabet letter set includes a plurality of European alphabet letters divided into a Capital letter group and a small letter group. See Fig.6.

6. In regard to claims 5, 12, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, further comprising displaying a mode conversion key and a save key in the editing mode. See col.2 paragraph 47.

7. In regard to claims 6, 13, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, wherein the displayed European alphabet letters appear in a pop-up window. See Fig.6.

8. In regard to claims 7, 14, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, further comprising displaying a mode conversion key and a cancel key in the editing mode when the pop-up window is displayed. See col.3 paragraph 59.

Art Unit: 2676

9. In regard to claims 8, 15, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, wherein the pop-up window disappears when either the mode conversion key or the cancel key is pressed. See col.3 paragraph 59.

10. In regard to claims 9, 18, 21, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, wherein the step of displaying a plurality of European alphabet letters, comprises: judging whether the inputted alphabet letter is changeable into a European alphabet letter; and displaying a plurality of European alphabet letters corresponding to the inputted alphabet letter if the inputted alphabet is changeable into a European alphabet letter. See col.4 claim 5.

11. In regard to claim 16, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, wherein a series of numbers are associated respectively with the European alphabet letters. See Fig.1.

12. In regard to claims 17, 22, Liu teaches a method and apparatus of selecting special characters in a mobile communication terminal, wherein the displayed European alphabet letters are selected using numeral keys on a keypad, respectively. See Fig.1.

Response to Arguments

13. Applicant's arguments filed on 12/16/2003, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the prior art does not teach “displaying a plurality of European alphabet letters which would correspond to an input alphabet letter, selecting one of the European alphabet letters using a numeral key on a keypad of the device.” However, examiner respectfully disagrees with the argument because on Fig.1, page 1 paragraph 6, page 3 paragraph 54,56, Liu teaches the display screen for displaying a plurality of European alphabet letters which would correspond to an input alphabet letter, and selecting European alphabet letter using a numeral key on the keypad. For these reasons, the rejections are maintained.

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
